OUR THEME

Ignorance and misunderstanding breed hate, fear, and distrust. In the modern world, the extension of understanding between people and nations can act as a foundation for world peace and brotherhood. In this, the initial year in which foreign students are attending Upper Perkiomen under the program of the American Field Service, the senior class is proud of the small part it has played in furthering international understanding. For these reasons the theme of the 1963 Walum Olum is "Stepping Stones to World Understanding."

THE ORIGIN OF WALUM OLUM

About 1000 A.D. a famous tribe of Indians known as the Lenni Lenape, interpreted as the "original people," invaded eastern Pennsylvania and settled in our region. The first recorded history of the tribe was entered in a "book" which was called the "Walum Olum." The traditional history of this tribe was inscribed on birch bark plates with carved figures. This was the only primitive eastern American record that can properly be called a book. Since the Lenni Lenape were prominent in our area and called their history the "Walum Olum," we would like to record the history of our class in our Walum Olum.

The class of 1963 dedicates its yearbook to a woman who has had a profound influence upon the senior class. She not only devotes her life to teaching English in junior high school but also employs her time, patience, and ability in directing the junior and senior class plays. Mrs. Anne Raymond has donated her talents to the dramatically inclined members of the junior and senior classes and succeeded magnificently in the difficult job of coaching the play casts. We, the class of 1963, wish to express our gratitude to Mrs. Raymond for the invaluable personal and scholastic guidance which she has unselfishly rendered to the members of our class throughout our high school years.

To the Class of 1963, I offer my sincere congratulations for having achieved the first major goal of your lives. May each of you plan a series of worthy goals which you will strive to attain with determination. The world upon which you are about to embark is beset with many challenges which will test your strength of spiritual and intellectual competence. The issues of the world struggle, which you will be called upon to solve, will be determined on these bases.

It is my sincere hope that the contributions you may make to society may be made in the framework of freedom and that these contributions may ultimately lead to human understanding and world peace.

It is my sincere wish that you, the Class of 1963, may each enjoy a full measure of success and happiness.

FLOYD W. BOYER
Supervising Principal

The theme you selected for your yearbook, "Stepping Stones to World Understanding," has significant implications. I hope you have made a long stride toward the attainment of your goal at Upper Perkiomen, that you have a better understanding of your neighbors — in your community, in your country, and in the world.

Permit me to quote from my message to the Class of 1960, "If the visions and hopes of mankind are to be realized for this world — freedom and with it world peace — one must be able to decide what is good, desirable, and valuable for all concerned."

Your association and acquaintanceship with the two foreign students attending our school have given you an invaluable percept of world understanding, and I am sure that these students have experienced similar benefits.

May you ever strive toward the attainment of your goal! Best wishes.

"O.K. gang! Give a good, interpretive reading." — Mr. Frank

SENIORS

CLASS OFFICERS: President — Mary Ellen Kriebel, Secretary — Sylvia Stahler, Treasurer — Judy Freed, Vice-President — Kenneth Fenstermaker, Honorary Vice-President — Luis San Miguel.

NOT SO VERY LONG AGO the class of 1963 was a small group of approximately one hundred and ten uneasy freshmen, contemplating the four years of senior high school remaining for us. Did we realize the actual importance of those coming influential years? Were we capable of making the momentous decisions which would consequently determine our future? The trial endured, knowledge gained and experiences encountered in the next four years had a permanent impact on our lives. Were we ready?

During the course of the freshman year we chose dark green and light green as our class colors. The class emblem was designed as an arrowhead, a symbol of the mighty Upper Perkiomen Indians. As class members began to be selected for sports teams, an interest quickened in the school sports programs. For the first time we were admitted to senior high activities with a sense of belonging.

Who could ever forget our wonderful sophomore year complete with American history and biology? We enjoyed dissecting frogs and worms, but oh, those history reports! Our first very own dance, "A Night in April" was as romantic as a sophomore hop could be. We even had a Sophomore Day on April 15, when the girls proudly donned their white mums with a big green "63" decoration. This was the second year of the existence of a chapter of the National Honor Society in our school. We proudly watched as two of our sophomores were admitted during a beautiful induction ceremony. Since our already-experienced coaching staff was augmented by Mr. Keeny, our football team began showing considerable improvement; even a number of our sophomore boys played on the team. Next an onslaught of tests of our personality, mentality, emotional maturity, and other qualities began and continued throughout the years. The guidance counselling department concentrated on helping us to select a profitable occupation and to be aware that as sophomores we were rapidly approaching graduation, at which time our choices would have to be made.

Our junior year began by greeting a strong football team who brought home our first victory in twenty-eight games. We will never forget North Penn! Now the Upper Perkiomen Indians struck fear into the hearts of the opponents! We were now on the level with any other school in the Bux-Mont League. Eleven juniors, seven of whom were varsity starters, aided the team to a 4-4-2 season. Class rings were proudly flaunted as we prepared for our first prom, "Emerald Enchantment." With jubilant hearts and after many nights of frenzied rehearsals, we staged our class play, The Egg and I, which was a rare success. College boards were taken in the spring by college-minded juniors, and the concert choir was formed. Then in March three more members were ceremoniously inducted into the National Honor Society. When the smoke lifted from the battlefield of the campaign between the Blue and the Gold parties for Student Council Officers, the Gold party displayed triumphantly its victory. In the spring the band, in keeping with the victorious football squad, campaigned long, hard, and successfully for beautiful new uniforms.

Finally we became coveted seniors. No one was above us any longer. Twelve years down, the rest of a lifetime to go. The year naturally began with a great 7-3-0 season from our football team. Again the unusual but hilarious senior class play, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, was a winner. This was the year of P.A.D. class, twelfth-grade English, office practice, and signing pictures. The winter months passed quickly while we were anxiously awaiting news of college acceptance and frantically meeting our yearbook deadlines. The enchanting senior prom in the spring proved to be a romantic scene with a wistful farewell remembrance, but our class trip to New York vanquished all thoughts of gloom. We had the time of our lives. Another great event was the arrival of the 1963 yearbooks. While donning our caps and gowns for Baccalaureate, we began to experience a feeling of nostalgia. To think we could never return as students to our Alma Mater, the home of so many wonderful memories, was truly a lamentable thought. Finally the long-awaited day of Commencement arrived; we were now on the threshold of life.

TEAM WINS TROPHY

Indian offense runs in high gear.

More than fifty boys — almost half of them sophomores — began their summer football practice on August 18 under the direction of head coach, Mr. William Keeny. After several grueling weeks of practice the Indians started headlong into Bux-mont league competition and in three months emerged with a highly commendable seven wins and three defeats. Those who received All Bux-mont honors were Clark Smith and Charlie Bricker — first team, Bruce Ziegenfuss and Jeff Bauman — second team, Jon Roncace and Dick Hallman — honorable mention. Here in the record which follows some of the highlights of this thrilling season are brought back to your memory.

On September 15 the Indians opened their season with a non-league encounter against the Boyertown Bears. Upper Perk displayed a strong running attack, and with a few timely pass completions they were able to dump the Bears, 26-14. Charlie Bricker and Jay Mastin each tallied twice for the Indians. Then, the Keenymen were initiated into league competition by Hatboro on the Hatboro gridiron.

Upper Perk scored first via an eleven yard scamper by quarterback Jon Roncace, but it took a safety in the final period to give the Indians a 9-7 victory. Wissahickon was, next to be crushed by the powerful U.P. eleven, who left the visiting Trojans on the short end of a 27-7 score. The turning point of this contest came when the entire Indian defensive line smothered a Wissahickon punt attempt, and junior end Barry Kline fell on the pigskin in the endzone. Then Upper Perk took its 3-0 record to North Penn on October 5 for its first encounter under the lights. The determined Indian squad was successful in overcoming an early Knight score, to win 12-7 and remain undefeated.

However, one week later the Panthers of Quakertown became the first team which was able to successfully move the ball against the formidable Upper Perk defense. In doing so, they upset the U.P. tribe, 20-12, in spite of a brilliant 78 yard scoring gallop by Dave Manion and the always superb performance of Charlie Bricker. But this fine Upper Perk eleven could not be throttled very long. They resumed their warlike ways on October 19 and unleashed their most devastating scoring display of the season to thump Upper Moreland, 32-20. Charlie Bricker, unanimous all-league choice, gained over 180 yards rushing and scored three times to raise his total to eight touchdowns in six games. Pennridge High School then came to Upper Perk with Bux-mont's only remaining undefeated team. With a Ram victory over the Tribe, Pennridge would be almost assured of winning the league championship, and they did just that. Pennridge tallied three T.D.'s in the first half and battled the remaining twenty-four minutes to halt successfully an Indian rally. The final score read 20-13 in favor of Pennridge, who went on to finish the campaign with an unblemished 9-0 record.

It took a 56 yard dash to paydirt by "old reliable" Charlie Bricker, plus a last-minute goal line stand by the league's stingiest defense, for Upper Perk to edge by Central Bucks for a hard-earned 6-2 victory. The Indians rallied a week later from this "close call" to unleash once again a relentless offensive attack and top the Springfield Spartans, 21-12. Dave Manion, Jay Mastin, and Charlie Bricker each scored once, on runs of 40, 58, and 23 yards respectively. The traditional Thanksgiving Day game was played on the rain-soaked gridiron of Souderton High School. The home team completely halted the U.P. running attack and intercepted three passes enroute to their 7-0 Victory. Upper Perk and coach William Keeny will have to wait another year to get a shot at the Big Red of Souderton, whom they have never beaten.

The efforts put forth this year by the Upper Perk football team were the result of hard work, conditioning, and self-sacrifice. No single person or event can be cited as the one which raised the football program at Upper Perk from the over-shadowed depths of obscurity to the level which was attained this year. Congratulations to the coaches — Mr. Keeny, Mr. Duka, and Mr. Schmidt — the players, and the students for making the 1962 football season a successful one.

Eager to test their ability to the sport of hockey, the Junior Varsity had a hard season with little success. The opening clash with Boyertown clinched a tie 0-0. Another tie in the pouring rain came against Quakertown 1-1. Susan Gable caged our single goal. The first loss occurred with North Penn 3-0. Losses continued against Wissahickon 4-1, Central Bucks 4-0, Upper Moreland 2-0, and Hatboro also cut down the Perky stichers with a 3-0 losing battle.

With superb training from coach Mrs. Bishop, the team may successfully contribute to the prowess of next year's varsity squad.

The season's opener, the practice game against Boyertown, signaled the beginning of a most progressive season for the Upper Perk squaws. With eight returning letter winners, the team didn't lack potential. Quakertown took the league opener, 3-1, with an overwhelming trump from North Penn, 5-0. Our first victory came against Wissahickon with Carol Greiss and Sandy Beller scoring for U.P. The losing streak hit us again with a loss to Central Bucks,

3-0, and Upper Moreland, 2-0, but the Squaws bounced back to capture a 4-0 victory over Pennridge. Carol Greiss tallied 3 and Sandy Haller one. In the last seconds of a hard-struggling game, Hattboro caged their winning goal to defeat U.P. once again. The Souderton game closed the season in a stalemate. With Miss Moyer's excellent coaching and training and several returning letter winners, future success should be guaranteed.

Indians battle Rams for rebound.

Long before the excitement of the football season was over, The Upper Perk basketball players were preparing themselves, both physically and mentally, for the season which would not be long in arriving. The team was slightly taller, on the average, than those of the past seasons, and four of this season's starters played major roles on last year's basketball quintet. With Dave Manion, Jon Roncace, and John Roth returning to play in the U.P. backcourt and Terry Gery, Dave Haring, Dick Hallman, and Barry Kline fighting for front court positions, the approaching campaign appeared quite promising.

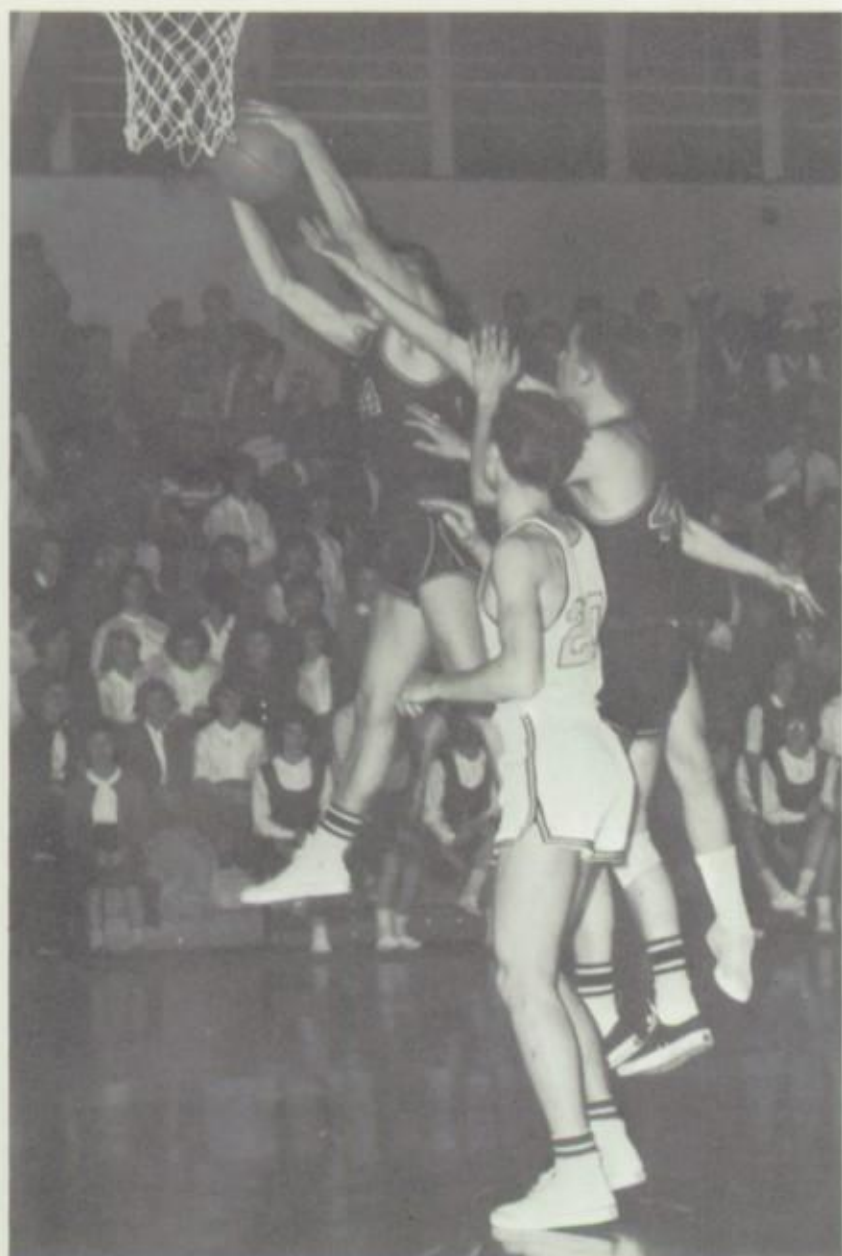

The never-say-die Upper Perk cagers did improve on their record over last year's, but even more important, they played the type of basketball that displayed the desire, hustle, and determination of this well coached varsity basketball team.

The Indians launched their 1962-63 campaign under the direction of coach Francis Petruncy with two outstanding team victories. The first came against a traditional rival, the Boyertown Bears, whom the Indians topped 62-54. Haring, Gery, and Kline led the U.P. scoring brigade, as the tribe put together a fast moving offense and a hustling man-to-man defense. In the second contest, the league lid-lifter for the Indians, Upper Perk was slightly off the mark scoring-wise, but balanced its poor shooting with a great defensive game. In this duel, the Gold Bears of Upper Moreland were the victims, and they were forced to yield by a 45-38 count. Then Upper Perk met North Penn, Central Bucks, and Springfield, and although they battled fiercely, the Indians were defeated each time.

As the season progressed, however, the tribe succeeded in thumping Souderton 62-38, behind the scoring and rebounding of Kline, Haring and Gery. Also, Upper Perk was engaged in two overtime contests, both of which they dropped. The first, played on January 4, was against the Panthers of Quakertown. The Indians, behind by nine points at half time, fought back to tie the Quakers at 59-all at the end of regulation time. However, the superior Panther height proved too much for the Indians to overcome, and the U.P. cagers were defeated, 70-65. The second overtime game was played against Hatboro on the East Greenville court. This time it was the Hatters who overcame Upper Perk's early lead and edged by the Indians for a 53-52 victory.

There are numerous other incidents which occurred during the season, both in favor of and against Upper Perk, which, although not mentioned here, will live forever in the minds of those who witnessed them.

In addition to moving a few notches higher in the league this year, the players gained valuable experience, which can be obtained only by those who participate in a fast moving sport such as basketball. Because of the physical and mental attributes necessary, the individual who experiences the pressure of competition more readily appreciates the ability and talent that he possesses. Congratulations to the coaches and players for making the past basketball season an exciting one and to the students for whole-heartedly supporting the team's effort.

Many Upper Perk basketball fans made it a point to arrive at the U.P. gymnasium as early as possible when a game was to be played. Why? To see the exciting junior varsity team in action in the preliminary contest.

Under the coaching of Mr. Michael Duka the junior varsity basketballers finished among the league's top teams and promised a bright future for next year's varsity quintet. Among the J.V. stand-outs were juniors Billy Cleaver, Alan Beard, John Roth, and Clyde Behney, plus sophomores Denny Kleinbach, Stan Graber, and Dwaine Wilson.

After dropping their opener to Boyertown, the Indians went on the warpath, dumping such teams as Upper Moreland, North Penn, Springfield, Central Bucks, Quakertown, Pennridge, and Hatboro. In spite of the fact that many of the junior varsity starters played only half a game so that they could, if necessary, be used for varsity action, the J.V. remained in first place until they were upset by Souderton and Wissahickon midway through the campaign. On several occasions during the season, the J.V. ripped the cords so consistently that they tallied a higher point total than the varsity did on the same evening. In view of the success of this year's hustling Upper Perk junior varsity five, the future Indian teams will undoubtedly become contenders for top-spots in the Bux-mont league race. Congratulations to coach Mike Duka and to the fine J.V. ball club for their excellent performance this past season.

Because this is the first year for Upper Perk and the rest of the Bux. Mont. League to adopt the new method of playing with the roving player, each team had to work extra hard to produce fine versatile players for both forward and guard slots. Mrs. Annette Bishop assumed the responsibility of training the Upper Perk girls this season. With her wonderful background experience, the team gradually worked its way to success after weeks of rigorous new training. Their first reward was bestowed by Quakertown, 52-42; the second by Souderton, 51-26.

Out of the five returning letter winners, each contributed heavily to the scoring for the squaws. Carol Greiss and Paulette Gebert were high scorers, augmented by Gayle Schultz and Linda Keyser. Faye Gehman manned the team's rebounding position with Paula Weiss and Darlene Kuryllo as the chief interceptors.

The desire for victory and the sportsmanship of each player gave the Upper Perk girls a most successful '63 season.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

SITTING: Mrs. A. Bishop, Miss K. Moyer, Coaches. STANDING: Linda Benner, Sandy Heimbach, Karen Reif-snyder, Doris Derr, Managers.

Under the guidance of Miss K. Moyer, the Junior Varsity showed definite signs of readiness to compete with any opponent. After extra hard work for these newcomers, the tribe positioned its first victory from North Penn, 19-14. Victories continued as the girls defeated Quakertown, 20-18, and Souderton, 17-16. The latter was a nip-and-tuck contest in which Faye Gehman landed the winning basket.

Boosting the points for the team were Etta Sue Steinman, Peggy Stoudt, Hazel Gebert, and Jane Graber. These girls contributed as both excellent forwards and guards. With these additions, plus the spirit and sportmanship of the other team members, a most successful season is being looked for next year.

TRACK

The Upper Perkiomen track and field squad is looking forward to a fine season as it enters the seventh year of Bux-mont league competition. Once again, Mr. Fred Wavrek will coach the squad, which is made predominantly of underclassmen. The schedule is a rugged one, as usual, and the Upper Perk runners will have to be in top physical condition to compete against the other Bux-mont league teams. The returning lettermen are senior Allen Zepp, holder of a second place medal in the 440 yard dash from last year's Bux-mont meet; Jay Mastin, also a sprinter; Gary Freed, a middle distance runner and sprinter; Steve Roth, a sprinter and hurdler; and Neil Hipser, a pole-vaulting specialist. These fine athletes, the nucleus of the squad, plus several underclassmen, will carry the Upper Perk banner into the always-stiff Bux-mont league competition. No matter what the final outcome of the season is, however, the U.P. Indians will always have put forth the best effort possible to meet their opponent's challenge.

BASEBALL

No sooner had the spring sunshine burst forth on the Upper Perkiomen High School area than the prospective baseball players began their practice sessions. Mr. William Keeny, after missing last year's season entirely, commenced his second year as head baseball coach at Upper Perk.

The team, built on a solid foundation of returning lettermen, spent many hours on the wind-swept U.P. diamond, preparing themselves for the rugged thirteen-game schedule which lay ahead. Five seniors, all lettermen, form the nucleus of the Indian nine. Fireballers Charlie Bricker and Ted Bauer are the mainstays of the pitching staff. Dave Manion provides the U.P. infield with masterful glove-work and experience. Catcher-outfielder Joe Mayer and fly-chaser Terry Ritz give the Indians strength at the plate. In addition to Manion, others who are fighting for infield positions are Perry Breyer, Dennis Kline, John Germes, and sophomore-hopeful Doug Bauer. Outfield spots will be open to any promising or determined comers.

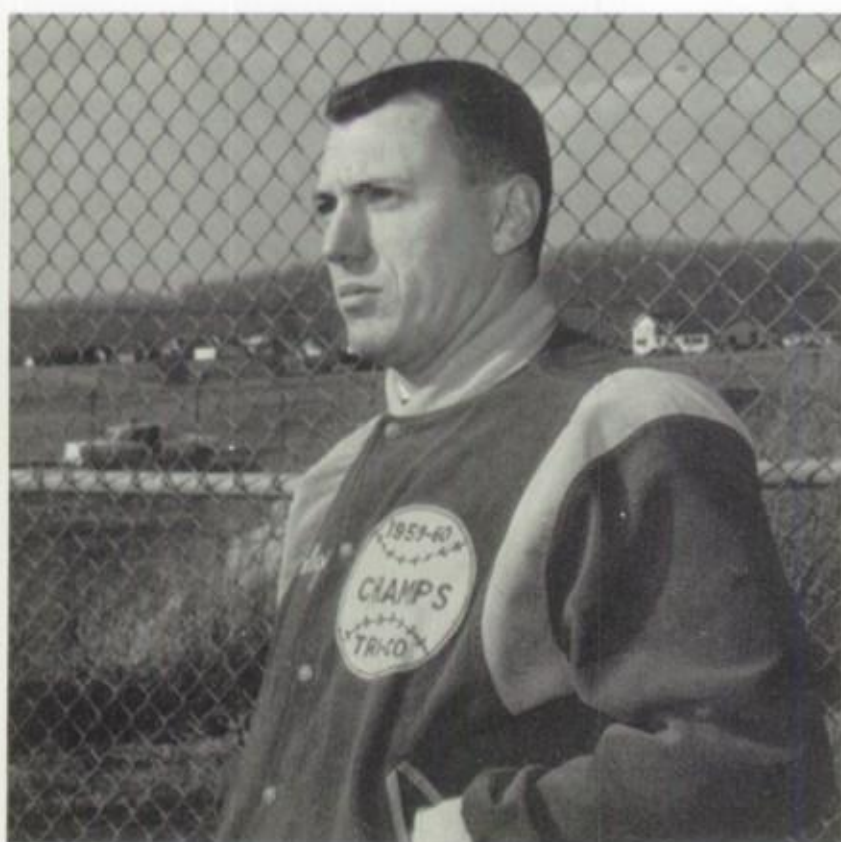

Mr. Walter Schmidt will once again coach the Junior Varsity squad, which, as always, has an abundance of able bodies and willing minds. Many eager freshmen and sophomores will be battling to earn positions on the J.V. team, making it difficult for coach Schmidt to select a starting nine.

Although the U.P. tribe has not experienced much success in the last few years, their fortunes in the stiff Bux-Mont circuit may begin once again to swing upward. Just as in football, there is new interest in the spring sport and more desire among the boys to earn a respectable rank in the league. No matter how the Indians fare, you can be sure that they always will have given Coach Keeny and Upper Perk one hundred per cent effort.

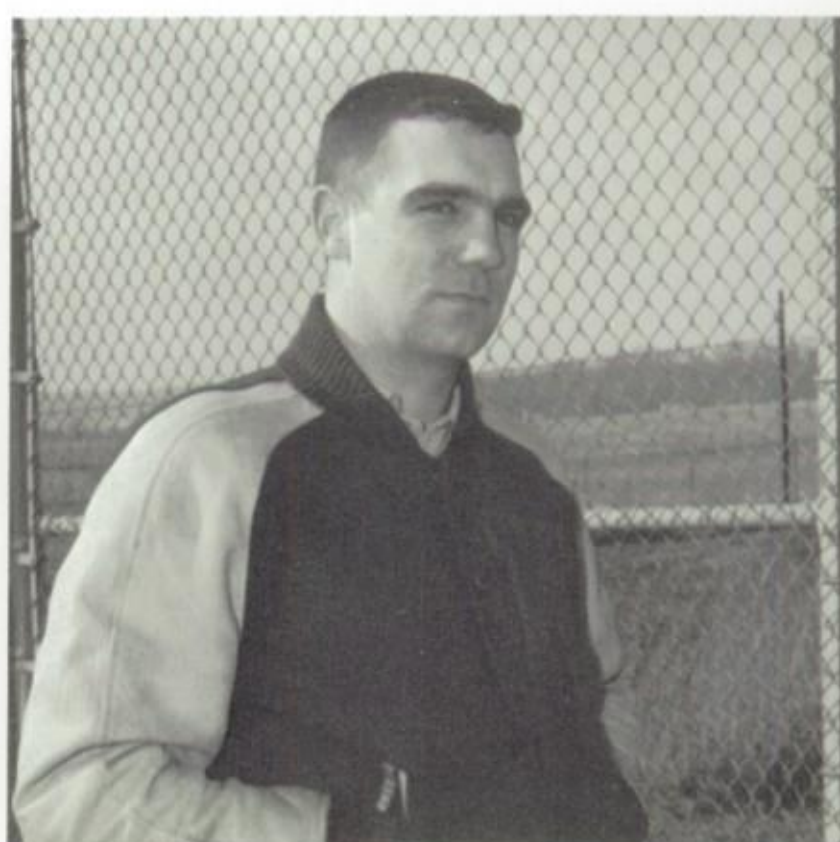

Coach Bill Keeny instructs Charlie Bricker in the art of bunting while Joe Mayer looks on.

SENIOR: Sylvia Stahler

The 1963 softball season opened with eight returning letter winners to guide this year's team to an even greater season than the preceeding ones. Among the letter winners were two year veterans: Carol Greiss, our star 4-2 season pitcher from 1962; Paulette Gebert, catcher; and Gayle Schultz, first base. Adding to the one year veteran list were Sylvia Stahler, second base, only returning senior member; Lynda Keyser, shortstop; Jane Bayer, short field; Marianne Miller, center field; and Darlene Kuryllo, right field.

The zeal aroused by the victories of the 1962 season sparked the six game effort to gain first place in the league. Though a second place tie ended last year's season, the spirit and eagerness for the first place standing will surely drive the girls to the top. Much practice, especially in batting, plus guidance from the efficient coach, Miss Kathleen Moyer, will aid the fielders and pitcher in the great cause.

To boys softball may seem to be an easy sport, but to the girls who make up the Upper Perk team, the facility of the sport fades into serious hours of hard work, continuous drive, and great effort on the part of each individual. With only one senior leaving, the constant striving for high goals guarantees much future success to the remaining team members.

RETURNING LETTER WINNERS: Paulette Gebert, Gayle Schultz, Marianne Miller, Darlene Kuryllo, Sylvia Stahler, Carol Greiss, Linda Keyser, Jane Bayer, Miss Moyer, coach.

WALUM OLUM

Have you thought of the time, talents, and experiences involved in the publishing of this 1963 Walum Olum? Imagine, for a moment, the editor, Robert Snyder, pounding on the closed post office door with the yearbook deadline material under his arm; Mrs. Harriet Rapine calmly smiling at wild suggestions offered by helpful staff members; or senior sportsmen impatiently posing for an action shot by Mr. Styer. Think of Donna Hyra tearing out her hair when her meticulous artwork is a bit too large; Nancy Marks and Doris Derr catching underclassmen to help identify pictures; or typing staff members with their hair in curlers on a seemingly peaceful Saturday morning surrounded by scattered yearbook material. In the center of all this is Robert Snyder, attempting to find a logical arrangement.

The staff will assure you that their dedicated hard work served to endear this yearbook to their hearts because through it they express themselves and their service to their class.

A yearbook is truly part of its staff. Every picture had to be scheduled and identified, the layout editor had to arrange each page in the book, articles had to be written, money raised, typing done, and everything supervised. With all these people injecting their personality into the pages of this book, one sees its value not only as a class record, but as a lasting memorandum of the characters of its staff.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Always behind the scenes, planning and executing programs for our school, the Student Council has done much more for Upper Perk than most of us realize. Ably guided by Mr. Donald Hagenauer, the Council has done much this year to benefit the student body. Undertaking several projects, the Council bought banners for the gymnasium; sold gym suits, decals, book-covers, and newly designed sweatshirts; initiated the buying of a new scoreboard; sponsored dances after basketball games; supervised the annual Christmas dance; and coordinated the "Decorate Your Door" contest.

Another notable achievement of the Student Council was the realization of a Junior High Student Council. Under the competent guidance of Mr. Carl Arner, the newly formed council held dances and several assemblies including a talent show.

Despite its ambitious program, the Council seeks constantly to improve itself. Twice this year a delegation was sent from this school to the Tri-County Student Council Convention, and in October the President and Vice President were sent to the State Convention to obtain a new and better concept of the workings of an efficient council. Plans are also under way to send two delegates to the Summer Workshop at West Chester State College.

This hard-working organization certainly deserves gratitude and appreciation from the student body.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Nancy Moyer, President; Faye Gehman, Vice President; Donna Hyra, Secretary; Jon Roncace, Treasurer; Charlie Bricker, Captain of Monitors.

PERK-O-LATOR

Under the capable advisorship of Mr. Lynn Frank, the Perk-O-Lator staff has turned out a steady reporting of the happenings that have made news at Upper Perk. Four experienced senior editors, Leslie Garhart, Editor-in-Chief; Robert Snyder, News Editor; Nicky Hundscher, Feature Editor; and Jon Roncace and Paula Weiss, Sports Editors, led their staffs in the preparation of a successful monthly newspaper. A number of other seniors have done outstanding work in making this year's Perk-O-Lator possible. These include David Haring, Business Manager; Mary Ellen Kriebel and Jack Richard, editorialists; Faye Gehman and Nancy Moyer, columnists; Kenneth Fenstermaker, Christine Trumbore, and Gayle Robinson, reporters; and a group of faithful typists. The Perk-O-Lator staff very successfully fulfilled its duty of keeping the students well-informed as to what was happening in their school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

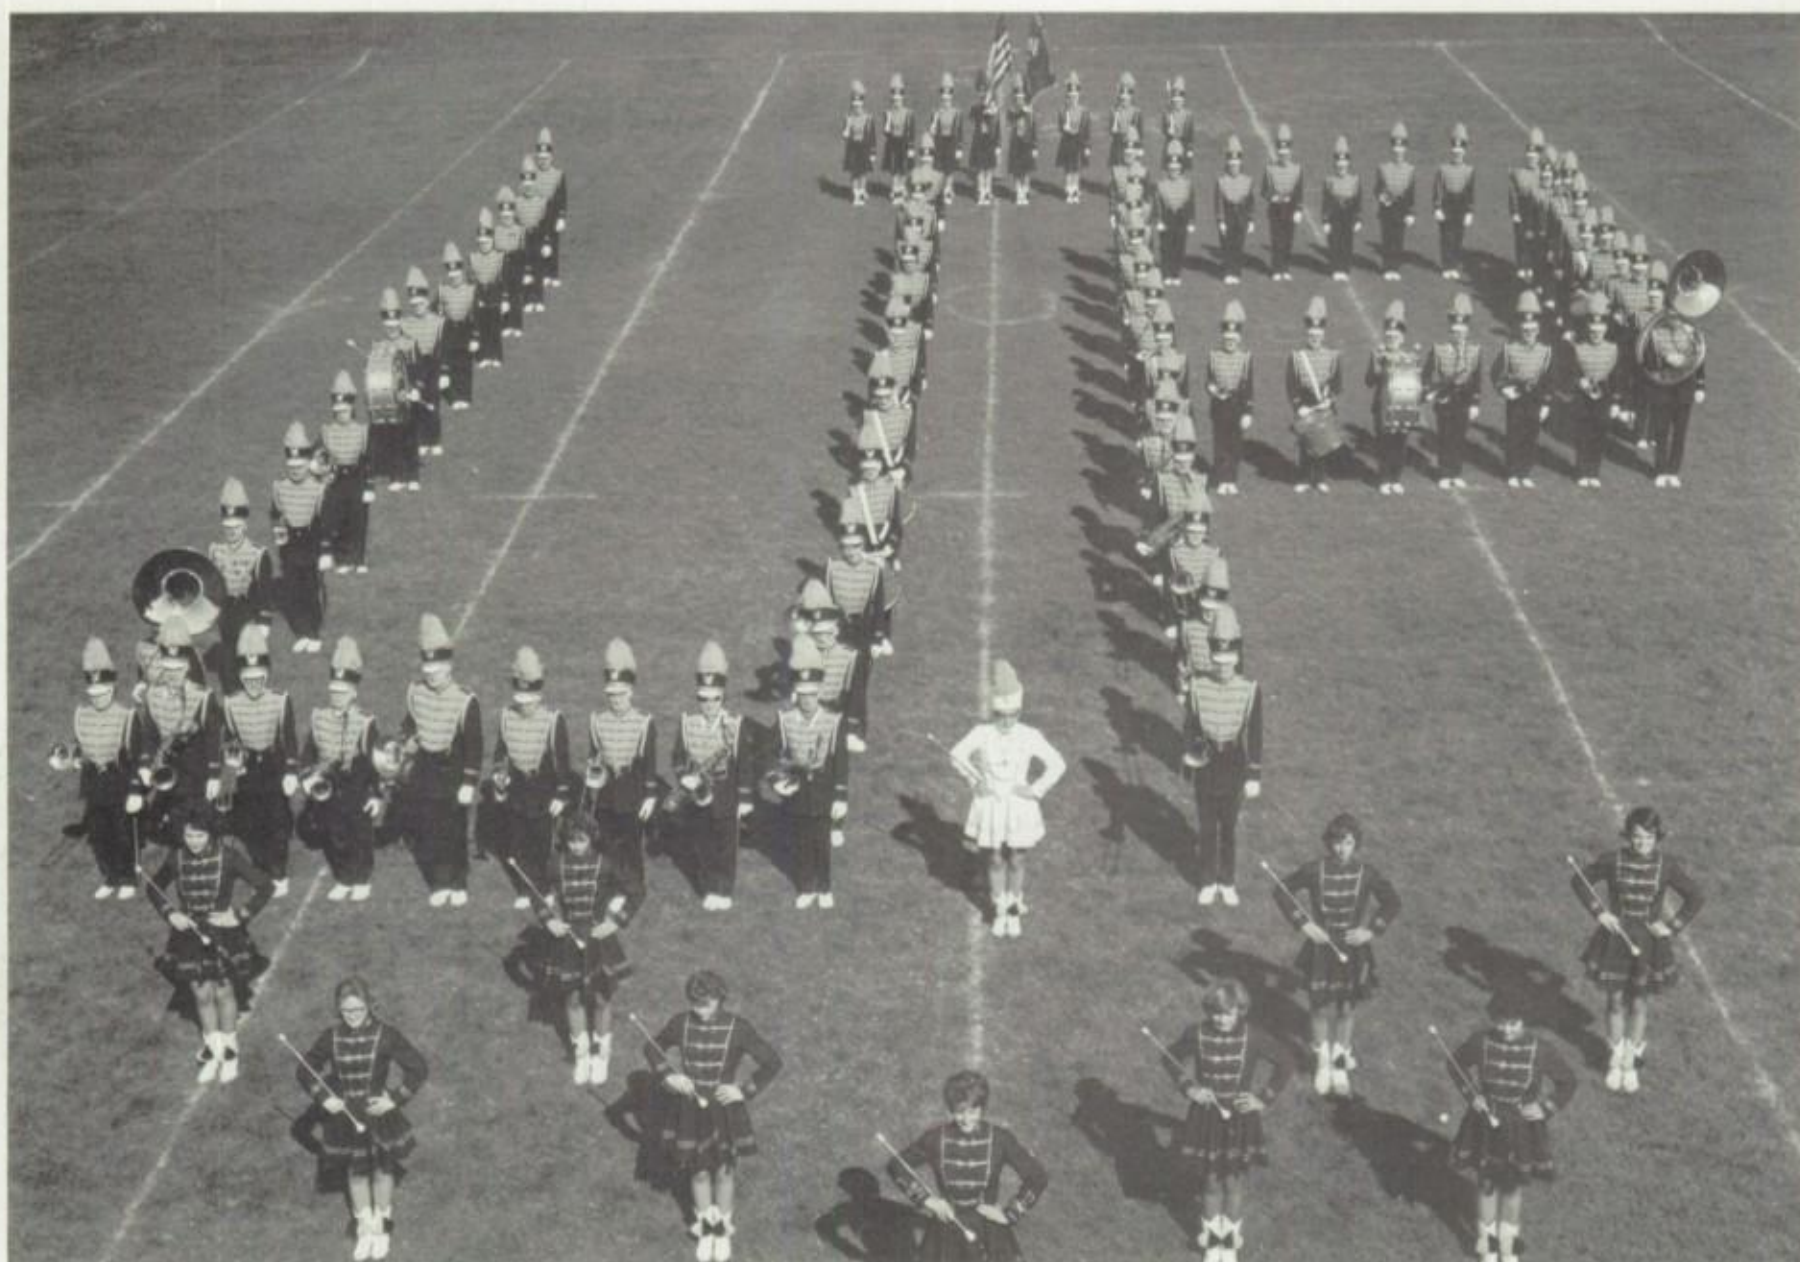

Seniors Faye Gehman, Robert Snyder, Jon Roncace, Mary Ellen Kriebel, and Paula Weiss prepare for induction ceremony.

The members of the National Honor Society, trying diligently to maintain their standards of character, scholarship, leadership, and service and to encourage others to strive for higher goals, have accomplished several projects. They bore the school expenses of two foreign exchange students this year and initiated a tutorial service. The latter benefited pupils who were having difficulties with a subject and wanted to be tutored by a member of the NHS.

The NHS officers for the 1962-1963 term were as follows: Faye Gehman, President; Robert Snyder, Vice-President; Paula Weiss, Secretary; and Mary Ellen Kriebel, Treasurer. These people, as well as all the other members, steadfastly served the society to insure its success.

The year was highlighted by the induction of thirteen new members at an impressive ceremony held on February 22. The auditorium was decorated with ferns and candelabras; the table held the torch and the lights of character, scholarship, leadership, and service, while the banner and the symbols hung in the background. An organ added austerity to this solemn occasion.

BAND

The Upper Perkiomen Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Vincent Bercher, employed the best of talented musicians, color guards, and majorettes. This year football spectators viewed precise formations and colorful half-time performances by the band — in completely new uniforms!

Last year the band members themselves paraded diligently, and with the help of the Band Boosters Club, raised the money. Purchased from Ostwald, Inc., the strikingly colorful and handsome uniforms were the pride of each band member and will serve our band for many years to come.

During the year the band marched in many holiday parades and was chosen to perform in Field Day on Franklin Field at the University of Pennsylvania. Members of the Band are as follows: Robert Mensch, Sallie Hallman, Faith Cressman, Robert Snyder, Charlotte Essig, Robert Shupe, Maxine Wieand, Paula Weiss, Edward Bieler, Sylvia Stahler, Jeris Trone, Janis Trone, Linda Hauck, Barbara Tercha, Nancy Marks, George Ritter, Frank Novelli, Luis San Miguel, Tracy Schofer, Charles Mest, Dennis Matthews, Joyce Rothenberger, Lenoir Schultz, John Hallman, Reuben Moser, Carey Knause, Joe Taraskas, Susan Folk, Dale Richard, Jim Hoffman, Diane Mack, Ann Styer, Philip Lipschultz, Robin Renninger, Linda Britton, Fern Peterson, Martin Kriebel, Mary Hunsberger, Mary

Congratulations to those who earned the high musical honors of being chosen for Bux-Mont Band. A member of State, District, and Bux-Mont bands, George Ritter played in several combos, including one of his own. He was honored by being selected to tour the southern states with an exclusive group of musicians sponsored by the First Chair of America. The tour included a parade at the Lion's Club Convention in Miami, as well as other parades and shows the group presented in various famous southern cities. The trip lasted a month and was an exciting and educational experience.

Who else could have done a better job to add color and excitement to the 1962 football season than Kay, Marlene, Rosemary, Kathie F., Donna, Susie, Carol, Barbara, and Kathy W., the nine peppy cheerleaders? Under the leadership of Kay Haller, the captain, and Mrs. Moser, the advisor, the squad did its best to promote school spirit with a barage of posters and pep rallies.

During fair weather the girls danced about — cheering, screaming, and inciting the crowd to join in urging the team to victory, but even foul weather could not dampen the spirits of the cheerleaders. In rain and snow, amid drooping hair and wet uniforms, the girls, assisted by little Miss Karen Wieand, the newly appointed mascot, continued to motivate the crowd to cheer and the team to win. Their chants filled the gym during basketball season, and their spirits remained undaunted in the face of defeat.

Besides cheering on the football and basketball teams they presented a dance, "Football Farewell," in appreciation of the football team's successful season. But the season would never have been complete without the colorful and exciting cheerleaders who helped spur the school on to victory.

CHORUS

Rounding out the musical side of Upper Perk's extra-curricular activities are the school's three fine choral groups, the Junior High Chorus, the Senior High Chorus, and the Concert Choir, all under the direction of Mrs. Nora M. Jacobs. These groups give two annual public performances — the Christmas concert and the spring program. At this year's Christmas concert many traditional and sacred selections were performed. The Senior Chorus (featuring John Hallman, bass; Susan Schantz, alto; and Linda Hauck, soprano) sang with piano and harpsichord accompaniment Bach's Cantata No. 142. At the spring concert in May, the choruses performed Pachebell's Magnificat for double chorus, selections from West Side Story, spirituals, and various other songs in a light mood.

The Concert Choir, whose members are selected from the Senior Chorus, has been called upon to help with such special events as the National Honor Society Induction Ceremony and exchange assemblies.

The officers of the Senior Chorus are Martha Stock, President; Judy Freed, Vice-President; and Judy Kline, Secretary. The Concert Choir is headed by Linda Hauck, President; and Maxine Wieand, Vice-president.

The Upper Perk choruses have completed another successful year of public and school performances, providing entertainment and good music for both community and student audiences.

ACCOMPANISTS: Maxine Wieand, Robert Snyder, Susan Schantz. DIRECTOR: Mrs. Nora M. Jacobs. These musicians worked diligently to ensure the success of the choral programs.

"Oh no!! Not those safety-pockets again?"

Amateur Thespians Delight Audiences

"R-r-robert Snyder! Don't you dare upstage Faye like that!"; "Gayle, don't say 'want' and 'dint' for 'wouldn't' and 'didn't'!"; "Will you tell those boys back-stage to stop that racket!"; "George, you'll have to talk louder than that if you expect the audience to hear you!"; — memorable phrases shouted by Mrs. Anne Raymond, director of the Junior and Senior plays, as she prepared her amateur thespians for their opening nights, March 30 and 31, 1962, and Nov. 31 and Dec. 1, 1962.

During play practices, people sat on bleachers waiting for their appearances, while others attempted to act among the scenery of folding chairs or a half completed stage setting. On dress-rehearsal evening everyone rushed to and fro, completing last minute alterations on props and costumes. Some actors lounged among the props, annoying the prompters, and others, when not on stage, frantically flew down to the cafeteria to change costumes or find a missing actor. In the middle of the dress-rehearsal a delicious cake and cokes arrived to celebrate the past weeks of hard work and to toast the opening night.

In the Junior play, Robert Snyder and Faye Gehman led the cast of Betty MacDonald's "The Egg and I" as Don and Betty MacDonald. The daughters, Anne and Joan, were portrayed by Paula Weiss and Gayle Robinson. Romance was created by Anne's suitor, Ed Bieler, Joan's beaux — Hi-Baby, George Ritter, and JJ, Jeff Bauman. The play centered about the life and hard times of the MacDonald family, newcomers to the art of chicken-farming. With finances in poor condition, Joan lovesick, Corinne (played by Nancy Moyer) competing for Thad, and Don and Betty spitting, Donna Hyra (as Millicent Ames) arrives amid the chaos with a group of outdoor girls and imposes upon the MacDonalds. Sally Hallman and Les Gerhart (as Delicate Daisy and Mr. Manic Depressive) add satire to the fun-filled play. "The Egg and I" was hailed a rousing success by the school and the community.

As seniors the Class of 1963 presented the unusual and hilarious comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. Paula Weiss and Gayle Robinson co-starred as Cornelia Skinner and Emily Kimbrough. The story concerned the comical antics of the two girls as they left their parents for the first time on a trip to Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skinner (Robert Snyder and Faye Gehman) were the amusing but worried parents of Cornelia. However, Leo (Jeff Bauman) and Dick (George Ritter) took care of the girls, despite Emily's tragedy of almost killing a man and Cornelia's case of the measles. The "bunk-bed" and "measle" scenes were two of the most riotous in the play. Once in France, Cornelia attempted to learn the art of acting from Monsieur de la Croix (Luis San Miguel), while combating bedbugs, exploding gas meters, and the indestructible safety pockets.

David Haring, as the porter, and Doris Derr and Kay Haller, as two English girls, were amusing attractions aboard ship, while Donna Hyra and Sally Hallman, as the maid and the owner of the Parisian hotel, added comedy in France. The play proved to be the greatest financial success of the year when it was presented to "full-house" both evenings.

FHA OFFICERS SITTING: N. Windish, M. Dobrowolsky. STANDING: C. Windish, P. Townsend, I. Kline.

F H A

The Future Homemakers of America offers many exciting and challenging activities. During the annual trip to Harrisburg, the FHA members toured the capitol buildings, attended the yearly FHA meeting, and visited the State Farm Show. Members from all regions of Pennsylvania attend the formal FHA meeting every January.

Class activities at Upper Perkiomen involve sewing, cooking, and other skills necessary in good homemaking. Annual sewing contests provide opportunities to compete for sewing prizes, locally and state-wide. Outfits are judged on the basis of appropriateness, color scheme, sewing technique, and over-all appearance. FHA girls learn proper cooking methods and new recipes. They are taught to balance a budget and use their time wisely.

The FHA holds its monthly meetings to discuss business problems and fund raising activities. Profits derived from dances or other ventures provide an educational trip for the FHA members at the end of the year. The FHA members of Upper Perk also hold their own fashion show and serve refreshments.

The FHA offers a challenge to future homemakers and a wonderful education for the highest calling a woman fulfills, that of wife and mother. As the FHA pledge affirms, "FHA girls are the builders of homes, homes for America's future, homes where truth, love, security, and faith will be realities, not dreams."

FHA MEMBERS FIRST ROW: L to R, V. Smith, N. Peterson, C. Karver. THIRD ROW: B. Leister, J. Myers, Windish, C. Windish, M. Hauck, P. Moyer. SECOND ROW: C. Paules, B. Dieroff, Mrs. Yoder, G. Roeder, G. Hasier, J. Shupe, M. Dobrowolsky, I. Kline, P. Townsend, F. A. Rouch.

The prize-winning Upper Perkiomen High School Future Farmers of America began the 1962-1963 school year with the annual elections. Consequently, Frank Novelli was chosen president; Angelo Welker, vice-president; Kenneth Engleman, secretary; Jack Mechler, treasurer; James Cressman, reporter; James Pflieger, sentinel; and Charles Marks, chaplain.

In the fall the FFA competitive exhibits placed first at Kutztown and Allentown Fairs and second at the Reading Fair. The U.P. FFA group won second place in general competition at the Allentown Fair, where the boys went on a field trip. In October the U.P.H.S. freshmen FFA members, called "Green Hands", were initiated. The freshmen attended the Parliamentary Procedure Team at Parkland High School. In December FFA delegates Jack Mechler and Stanley Soffa attended the area meeting at Pottsgrove High School, which concerned "Public Speaking." For the Upper Perk FFA the public speaker is Paul Yoachim. In January the FFA members attended the Pennsylvania Farm Show, where their display brought home another first prize for the third consecutive year. The FFA project concerned the various occupations from which FFA students are able to choose.

The FFA basketball team, guided by Mr. Truman, is another pride of Upper Perk. The team members — Stanley Soffa, Frank Novelli, James Cressman, Richard Nace, Jack Mechler, David Treichler, Laverne Renninger, Eugene Schaffer, and George Weaver ended the season successfully after playing Pottsgrove, Pennridge, Parkland, and Northwestern High Schools.

In the spring the junior and senior FFA members took numerous trips to places of agricultural importance. As the seniors (Ralph Mack, David Manion, Frank Novelli, Stanley Soffa, and Angelo Welker) prepared for graduation, their instructor, Mr. Ensminger, prepared for retirement after 35 successful and rewarding years of teaching.

FFA OFFICERS: L to R, J. Mechler, A. Welker, F. Novelli, President; K. Engleman, J. Pflieger, J. Cressman.
